

Proclamation

“Glenn Stallard Day”

WHEREAS, much to the delight of friends and family, we are here today celebrating the life of Glenn Stallard; and

WHEREAS, he was born on November 4, 1910, 100 years ago in Esserville, Virginia; and

WHEREAS, Glenn graduated as Valedictorian of King College Class of 1933 and received his masters from New York University in meteorology; and

WHEREAS, he and his wife Minnie have been happily married for 61 years and proud parents of Mary Jane Williams; and

WHEREAS, after many years of working for the National Weather Service he retired in 1976; and

WHEREAS, Glenn became an active member of Kiwanis and helped establish the thrift store in Black Mountain; and

WHEREAS, over the years he was an active member of the First Christian Church in Black Mountain serving in many capacities.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Carl R. Bartlett, Mayor of the Town of Black Mountain, deem it an honor and pleasure to extend to Glenn sincere congratulations and best wishes celebrating his 100th birthday and do hereby proclaim Sunday, November 7, 2010 as “Glenn Stallard Day”

SIGNED this 7th day of November 2010.

Carl R. Bartlett, Mayor
Town of Black Mountain

Attest:

Darlene R. Whisenant, Town Clerk